Teach with Tech Session Proposal Guidelines

About the Teach with Tech Sessions

These quick (45-minute), small-group learning experiences are designed for personalized and hands-on exploration of today's most disruptive and innovative technologies. They will take place in the Quad—the central hub of the conference—in the artificial intelligence (AI) / virtual reality (VR) space.

If you've successfully implemented a specific technology tool or platform at your school and you want to share your experience, insights, and best practices with others, this is the right place to submit a proposal.

Keep in mind the following requirements as you prepare your proposal for a Teach with Tech session (45 minutes):

- Description (500 words): Explain your Teach with Tech idea: What technology tool, system, or platform have you implemented? Why did you implement it and what have you learned? Please include your intended audiences, facilitation techniques, relevant research or data, and any other important information.
- Conference Program Abstract (100-word limit): This shorter description will appear on the website and in the program for marketing purposes. If your workshop only applies to specific groups, e.g., lower-school administrators, please include that here.
- What technology tool, app, system, or platform will you cover? Please share the link to its website.
- Will the audience need access to a VR headset? (yes/no)
- What technology area does your idea most closely align with?
    - Artificial Intelligence
    - Virtual Reality
    - Augmented Reality
    - Interactive Simulation
    - Other (write-in)
